CAMP Values

The 4(ish) C's* of CAMP are:

- (1) Be Kind
- (2) Be Courageous
- (3) Be Creative
- (4) Be Community

*(3 C's & 1 K)

CAMP Song!

To wherever we have come from
And long after we must part
We can bring along this memory
That we share with kindred hearts
Of the time we came together
And the place that we co-made
May in 50 years of changes
We recount the fine short days
We passed at CAMP

My intention for CAMP is...

Welcome to C.A.M.P.!

Dear CAMPers,

May we begin by stating how ardently we admire & love you? CAMP has been a dream of ours for years, and we can't believe it's finally coming true. We know that coming to CAMP is a large ask - there are so many hurdles that make gathering together challenging. We are unbelievably grateful that you said yes to a full weekend of community, learning, reflection, singing, world building, and laughing together. Thank you!

Here's a short blessing collage for this weekend, pulling from quotes you might recognize:

Dear magnificent CAMPer, may we each remember our courage

To break rules when needed*

Laugh whenever possible*

Be each other's best earthly companions*

Be tempted by adventure* and open to kind fairies*

Embrace our magnificence

Leave a lineage of love & liberation at every scale

And resist all the way*

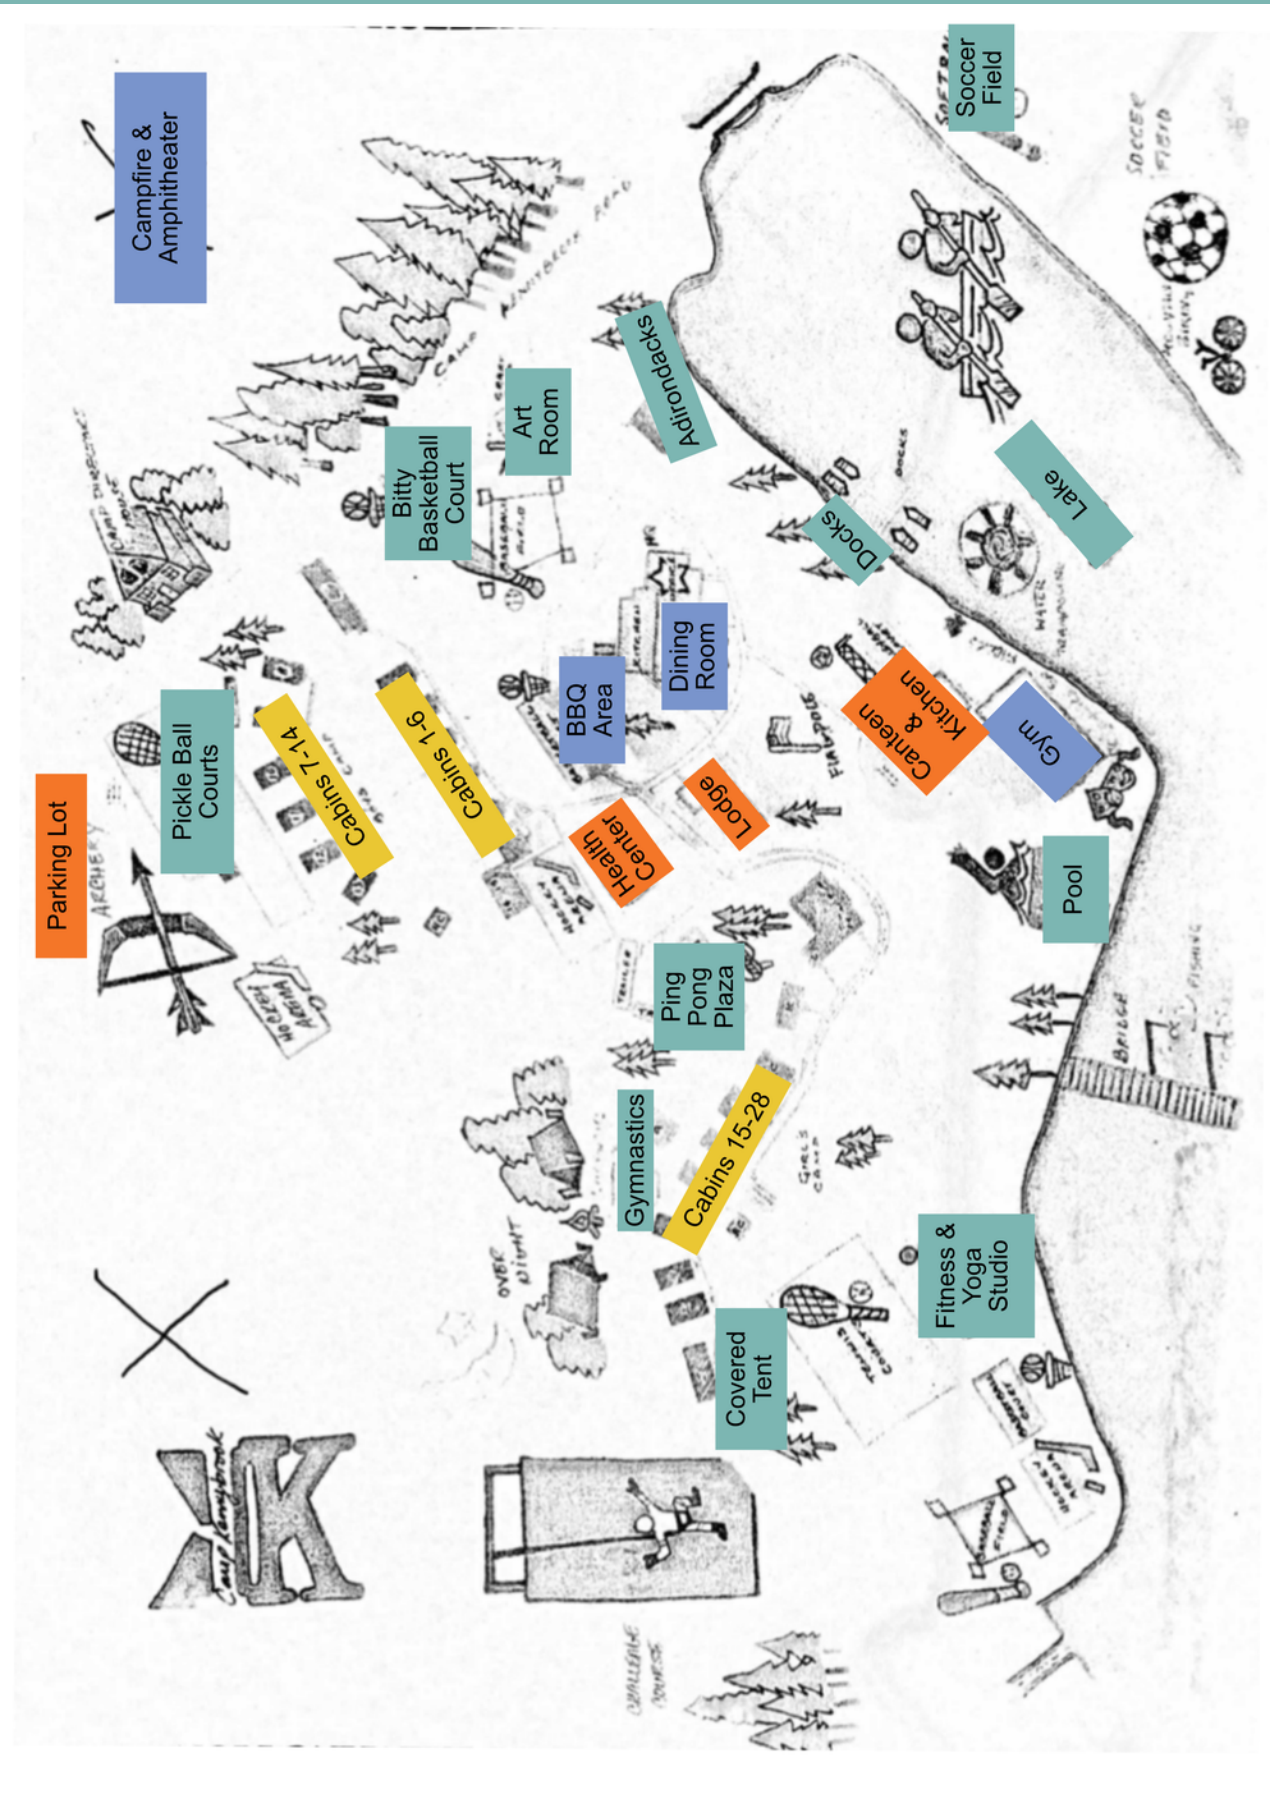

Always*

Day 1: Friday

Caveat: The weekend schedule may undergo minor fluctuations...

Programming may be shifted around on the fly due to illness, facility issues, or other last-minute challenges, so keep an ear open for announcements throughout CAMP and feel free to check in with faculty as needed if you're ever in doubt.

"Be bodacious enough to invent yourself" - Maya Angelou

Sometimes, it can be hard to embrace Maya Angelou's advice to "be bodacious enough to invent yourself," especially in a world where there is so much pressure to be a certain way. But what better time to try it out than this weekend?

Magnificent, bodacious CAMPers: how might we summon the courage to bodaciously invent ourselves today, together, here at CAMP?

Day 2: Saturday

“Practice yields the sharpest analysis” - Mia Mingus

How do we practice bodaciously inventing ourselves? How do we practice how we show up for and with one another? We don't think there's one right answer, but we do think having a kind, supportive community like CAMP in which to practice might help us learn. Let's try it together this weekend!

Day 3: Sunday

“What we practice at the small scale sets the patterns for the whole system” - adrienne maree brown

CAMP has been an incredible and joyful weekend, and we are so grateful to have gotten to be in community with you for these three days. Yet, the magic of CAMP extends beyond this weekend. CAMP is an opportunity for us to practice community at this small scale so that we can find new ways we want to practice community in other parts of our life. What are you taking with you from CAMP? How might we understand this weekend as an experiment in how we might want to show up in community, together?

Care at CAMP

Physical Care

- First aid: Visit the nurse at the health center with any health concerns or questions!
- COVID Concerns: If you have any COVID symptoms, please visit the nurse to complete a COVID test.
- Access Coordinator: If you have any access or care needs or other related questions, please call our care/access line at (505) 226-4858.
- Food: We shared everyone's allergen & dietary restriction information with Camp Kennybrook. We will also have snacks available in the dining room throughout the day.
- Fitness Studio: There is a small fitness room (connected to the yoga studio) that has weights, mats, and some basic equipment that you are welcome to use at your own discretion. There is also a yoga studio that has some yoga mats that you are welcome to use when there are no workshops in session there.

Emotional & Spiritual Care

- Quiet Room: The Canteen is our designated Quiet Room throughout the weekend. It will have paper with which to journal or make art, printed out poems, and meditation guides that people can use to center themselves at any point throughout the weekend.
- Optional morning practices: Start Saturday off with some poetry or Sunday off with singing, as a way to ground yourself and breathe together before the day begins!
- Sacred Practice Pop Up Booth: Visit this for an opportunity to engage in more sacred reading practices, reflect more with our HPST Patron Saints, visit Etymology Corner, and more.
- CAMP Apothecary: Check out our own CAMP Literary Apothecary, a collection of quotes to provide spiritual and emotional fortification! There will be one copy in the Sacred Practices Pop Up Booth and one in the Quiet Room.

Caring for Space & Closing Info

- Leave It Better Than You Found It: Make sure you leave all spaces - workshop spaces, outdoor spaces, your cabins - in the same condition (or better!) than when you came. If you could help us pull down any decorations in your cabins when you leave (feel free to take them if you'd like!), that would be helpful.
- Shuttle to NYC: The NYC shuttle will leave at 2pm Sunday from the Bitty Basketball Court. Please be there with your items by 1:50pm! You can bring your items to load to the final ceremony. The shuttle is expected to arrive in NYC around 4:20pm

Sacred Reading Practice Overviews

Lectio Divina

Lectio Divina is a four step reading practice, based in a Carthusian, monastic, Christian tradition. It is about going deeper and deeper into a text in order to apply it to your own life. The way we practice Lectio Divina, you pick a quote, and then go through these 4 steps for that quote:

1. What is the literal meaning of this quote? (What is its context within the story?)
2. What other metaphors, stories, allegories, songs, movies, and other cultural references does this quote remind you of?
3. What does this quote remind you of in your life?
4. Based on this quote and the conversation in the first three steps, what are you feeling called to do?

Sacred Imagination

Not Sorry adapted this practice from St. Ignatius of Loyola, the founder of the Jesuit sect of Christianity. This practice asks us to imagine ourselves into the text and wonder about the sensual elements of the text: what would we experience with our 5 senses if we were in the scene, on the page? To do this, we pick a passage from one of our Not Sorry books that is filled with sensory imagery, and we invite people to picture themselves within that passage. Do you show up as a particular character? Or as an observer? What senses stood out to you in this practice?

Florilegia

Together we will create collaborative poetry and build meaning in the poems we create together. As you spend the weekend in conversation, attending workshops, and engaging with different texts, find a short sentences or phrases from these sources or from things said by people that have meaning to you. Don't worry about writing down a whole verse – focus on individual phrases or single sentences. What resonates with you? What speaks to you in this moment in your life right now? We will then discuss these sentences or "sparklets" together in small groups, pick one per person, and create a poem. Then we will see what kind of meaning we can find in the conversation between each other's sparklets.

Food, Access & Safety at CAMP

I feel sick - what should I do?

There is a nurse in the Health Center (located in the middle of campus) you can go to with any health concerns! The nurse will be available Friday 2-5pm; Saturday 9-5pm, and Sunday 9-2pm. If you are experiencing COVID symptoms, you can take a test from the nurse and remain masked & isolated pending your test result. If your test is positive, you will need to stay in Camp Kennybrook's isolation room until you are able to leave CAMP.

Can I swim whenever I want?

Unfortunately, no! You are only allowed to swim while there are lifeguards on duty. They will be here 7-9am and 11-5pm on Saturday and 7-9am on Sunday. However, you can use the boats on the lake without a lifeguard present, as long as you wear a life jacket.

You must always wear a life jacket when you're in the lake

I need help meeting my access needs. What should I do?

For general care or access support, you can always reach out to our Access Coordinator, Lara. The easiest way to reach them will be either by (a) asking any staff with a walkie talkie to send them a message or (b) calling (505) 226-4858. Please note there might be a delay in their response if they are in another event or helping another CAMPer, but they will do their best to respond as quickly as possible!

Here are some common access needs people might have questions about:

- Reserved seating at large events: We will have several seats reserved at the front, back and aisles for people who need it. If folks have other needs they need accommodated at large events, please let Lara know!
- AC - if you need AC during the day, you can go to the Kitchen (attached to Canteen/Quiet Room), Fitness, and Yoga studios
- Bathroom locations: There are two restrooms in every cabin. There are also public restrooms in The Lodge, The Front Office (attached to the dining room), and The Health Center.

Is the food kosher/halal/allergy-free?

We shared all allergen/dietary restriction information we received with the Camp Kennybrook chefs, and they will have labeled items that meet different dietary restrictions in the dining room! The meat is not kosher/halal.

Where can I get snacks?

There will be snacks available anytime in the afternoons in the dining hall.

Other FAQ

Do I have to attend something every session?

Not at all! If you want to skip out on any session for whatever reason, you're welcome to! You can also check out page 18 for additional ideas of what you can do outside of sessions.

I didn't order linens and I forgot to bring them. What should I do?

We have ordered a limited number of extra linens, available on a first come, first served basis for the same fee as it was for people who pre-ordered it.

Can I still buy a CAMP shirt, journal, and/or sticker and/or other Not Sorry merch?

While supplies last, yes! We will have a limited amount of CAMP and Not Sorry merchandise available for purchase at registration, before the Live Show, and before the Closing Ceremony. Find the merch table at these events for more details!

What extra supplies do you have that I can access throughout the weekend?

We have collective sunscreen, bug spray, face masks, and ear plugs that are available throughout the CAMP weekend in the dining room. We will also have a variety of other items there, such as board games. Please make sure you return any items you borrow!

Can I change cabins?

Barring an extreme circumstance, we unfortunately can't have people change cabins. If people would like earplugs, we will have a limited number available at our supplies table in the Dining Room.

I have some questions that's not addressed here.

Grab any of our faculty members and they will either be able to answer it for you, or find the person who can.

Event & Workshop Descriptions

Blessings Workshop with Casper

Practice the art of blessing in this interactive workshop. You'll start by reflecting on what blessings mean to you, and then practice blessing a character in the Harry Potter books and then each other. Come prepared with an open heart! This might be for you if...

- You're ready to give and receive blessings
- You are comfortable giving and receiving consensual touch

Bosom Friends Forever: Friendship & Support Networks with Literature with Nathalie

Has a character ever helped you through a hard time? Do you consider any characters to be friends? What would it mean to have an intentional friendship with a character? And what might literary friendships have to do with social transformation? Come to this workshop to discuss and explore these themes of friendship, literature, and pod mapping! This might be for you if...

- You feel and/or have felt strong relationships to characters in literature and/or film
- You're interested in how friendship & literature might relate to transforming harm & conflict
- You're frustrated at how little the world values friendship & you want an hour to bask in the delight of friendship!

CAMP Confessional Booth: Voicemails & Blessings

For listeners of HPST! Is there a character from the series that's been on your mind lately? Or maybe a recent episode we've released that you'd like to respond to? Come by and record a short voicemail or character blessing for us to use in the upcoming season of HPST.

CAMP Confessional Booth: Testimonials & Time Capsules with Ariana

Are you looking for a way to capture some of the memories and friendships you've made this weekend? Stop by our booth and record a little audio time capsule to commemorate your time at camp. This might be for you if...

- You'd like to help us make CAMP happen again next year!
- You'd like to preserve some of the memories you made this weekend!

Campfire

What's a summer camp without campfire songs? Join us to gaze at the stars, make s'mores, and share tunes.

Charades, But Better with Margaret

Names from a Hat, Celebrity, Head's Up-- whatever you call them, they're the games that charades wants to be when it grows up. Come enjoy the thrill of shouting names at one another without having to remember the little hand gesture that means "movie." This might be for you if...

- You're attending CAMP with a pal with whom you share a Psychic Bond and wish to show off
- You're a professional mime and want to wash the floor with the competition
- You have a knack for picking celebrities that everyone knows but no one would guess

Chronicling the End of Azkaban: Fan-Fiction, Organizing, and Prison Abolition with Nathalie

From Aurors to Azkaban to detentions, the British Wizarding World is steeped in carceral logic. However, it doesn't have to be that way, and fan fiction can help us explore new ways forward! What are the stories waiting to be written about how they shut down Azkaban, defunded the Auror office, and created new systems that rooted in relationship, accountability, and care? And in what ways might fan fiction be a tool for organizing? We'll explore these questions and more through conversation and writing! This might be for you if...

- You care about prison abolition and/or fanfiction, and are curious how they can relate
- You feel stuck thinking about how prison abolition could actually happen and you want to explore it in community

Crying About Music with Margaret

Has a song ever caught you unawares and left you weeping in the aisle of a grocery store, looking at a box of Lucky Charms like it just broke your heart? Then this workshop's for you! Join noted Crybaby Margaret H. Willison to discuss the songs that lay you out, what makes them so special, and why music can unlock so much in us. This workshop might be for you if...

- You love talking about the music that matters to you
- You want to better understand your connection to art that moves you
- You are curious about other peoples' emotional relationship with art

Discussion: Pride & Prejudice Last Chapter with Vanessa & Lauren

Join in the discussion about the chapter that launched 1000 Happily Ever Afters. The way this novel ends is so different from how it is ever shown on screen or in adaptations and we will look at it closely and wonder how it can be so perfect and so unsatisfying at the same time.

Early Morning Practice Space: Sacred Poetry with Naomi

Start the day slowly and quietly by reading and writing poetry together. We'll start by reading poems together, then participants will have the opportunity to quietly read poems on their own or write their own poems. Prompts will be provided. This might be for you if...

- For the romantics out there
- For anyone who needs a slow, creative start to the day
- For anyone who wants to connect inward and be inspired by others

Early Morning Music Circle with Nick

Wake up with soft, ambient instrumental music to gently welcome the day. Or, if you woke up with a song stuck in your head, then unstuck it over at the morning music circle where we'll learn it and sing it together as loudly as possible.

Embroidery, Fiber Arts & Feminism with Hannah McGregor

Have you wanted to try your hand at embroidery but didn't know where to start? Are you a fiber artist with your own project on the go and you're hoping for some chill time to work on it? Or do you just want to chat with some other makers about the feminist history of fiber arts? Join Hannah M. for a drop-in embroidery hang; either follow along with a simple embroidery project (all materials provided) or bring your own project-on-the-go. Knitters, crocheters, embroiderers, quilters, cross-stitchers, and all other fiber artists welcome, as are total newbies! This workshop might be for you if...

- You're curious about embroidery and want to learn a new skill
- You want some time and space to work on your own crafting project
- You want to chat about the feminist history of fiber arts with some like-minded nerds

Finding the Right Words: Journaling as a Sacred (and Silly) Practice with Jolie

A space for writing as creative self expression. In this workshop, we'll be learning tips to overcome blocks and finding the right words and discovering that we all have something to say, a story to tell and something important to express, even if it's just important to ourselves. Your thoughts and your feelings and your story are sacred. This workshop might be for you if...

- You are new to journaling and would like some help getting started
- You love to journal and are looking for new inspiration
- You have something to say and are looking for the right words to express yourself

This workshop is designed to be empowering, but we may have some vulnerable conversations.

Fred, George and the Possibilities and Pitfalls of Humor and Disruption

Through a close reading of Fred and George's pranks throughout the Harry Potter series, Hannah and Jackson will lead a discussion about humor as a site of social change. How does the twins' sense of humor evolve over the years? How do the two of them disrupt the status quo? How might we understand Fred and George's evolving political consciousness over the series through their pranks and what can we learn about activism and allyship through the intent and impact of their actions? This workshop might be for you if...

- You have strong feelings about Fred & George
- You like to think about comedy and the role of humor in social justice
- You want to hang with Hannah and Jackson

Gender Affirming Care for Kids with Marcelle

Safe spaces for kids to explore gender identity are increasingly rare. If you have kids in your life, whether in your community, your work, or your family, you may be one of few adults around whom those kids are safe to be themselves. Join Marcelle for an empowering conversation and skills-building workshop on loving, supporting, and advocating for the queer, trans, and nonbinary kids in your life. This workshop might be for you if...

- You have kids in your life
- You want those kids to know they don't have to hide when they are with you
- You are a cis person with a big heart and a lot of questions trying to understand the whole "gender is a social construct" thing and you don't know where to start

This workshop is designed to be empowering, but we may have some hard conversations. Topics will likely include transphobia, suicide, depression, and abuse.

Hike with Julia

Join Julia and other Not Sorry Staff members for a the sacred practicing of walking, modeled by our pilgrimage program Common Ground. This might be for you if...

- You've wanted to join but have been unable to participate in a Common Ground pilgrimage and hike with other pilgrims

LGBTQ+ Meet Up

Meet other LGBTQ+ campers and make new friends. Jackson Bird will lead an initial discussion, followed by casual hang time. Drop in and out as you want. This might be for you if...

- You identify anywhere under the LGBTQIA+ umbrella and want to make some new friends

Not Sorry Live Show, hosted by Vanessa & Casper

Could we really gather all these amazing podcasters in one place without putting them on stage together? Of course not! Join us for a joyful evening of conversation hosted by Vanessa Zoltan and Casper ter Kuile with special guests: Hannah McGregor, Marcelle Kosman, Lauren Sandler, Jackson Bird, Jolie Doggett and Nick Bohl.

We hope everyone will attend!

Painting by the Lake with Courtney

Painting by the lake is a casual space to engage artistically with the nature surrounding our camp grounds. No need to be an expert to enjoy this creative outlet! Acrylic paint and canvas for medium. This might be for you if...

- You're looking for something tactile and creative, hope to do something for yourself, knowing it won't be evaluated by a professional

Pickleball Pickup Matches with Courtney

Pickleball is the fastest growing sport in the nation, so join Not Sorry's pickleball enthusiast for a chance to exercise your skills on the court in a non-competitive atmosphere. This might be for you if...

- You've wanted to try pickleball but haven't had the time, space, or gear
- You love an outdoor, social game that doesn't require much practice to enjoy

Pilgrimage Meet Up

Calling all former pilgrims! Welcome to this reunion tent where we can gather, reminisce and brainstorm future adventures! This workshop might be for you if...

- You have joined us on pilgrimage, virtually or in person!

Romance Writing Workshop with Vanessa & Ariana

Come try your hand at writing a romance novel. It's easier than you think! Together we'll think through how to get started on your Romance novel idea. What trope or tropes will you be using? What is the HEA you'll be writing toward? Who are your main characters? What is at stake? Join us in this crash course to get started on your next creative project! No writing experience required for this workshop, anyone can write a romance novel! We may mention sex during this workshop

Sacred Practice Groups: Sacred Imagination, Lectio Divina, and Florilegia

These recurring sacred practice groups will bring two cabins together to practice some of our favorite sacred practices using a variety of Not Sorry books! These are optional but encouraged, and you might especially enjoy them if...

- You want space to do sacred practices in community
- You want to get to know your cabinmates and other fellow CAMPers better!

Song Writing & Recording Drop In with Nick

· If you're a human being, you've got music in you. Whether you've always wanted to write and record that original ditty in your head, or you have a famous anthem you'd like some instrumental help to perform, we can do that here. This workshop is for enthusiastic, encouraging song creation and recording. Come hang out and leave with your new fresh single. Self-identified non-musicians welcome! (Space is limited due to one song at a time)

Sacred Practice Pop Up Booth

This Pop Up space an opportunity for you to engage with some of your favorite sacred practices - plus some new ones! - from our Not Sorry Podcasts, either on your own, with a partner, or in small groups. This space is open all weekend, but there will be a staff member there at the times listed on the schedule.

Sound Exploration with Ariana

Come explore the world through sound! In this workshop we'll be playing around with how sound makes us feel and exploring the metaphors that sound can offer. We'll be recording sounds, listening to sounds, and remembering sounds. You'll need your phone + some kind of audio recording app to participate, but no previous audio experience needed! This might be for you if...

- You know nothing about audio but you're interested in playing around with it
- You're hoping to get out of your head a little bit

This workshop will require use of a cellphone and a little bit of movement. It will also include some group discussion and one-on-one sharing.

Sound of Music Sing Along with Casper & Vanessa

The lyrics will be on the screen for this and the applause for when Hottie Capt Von Trapp rips up the nazi flag will be mandatory. Come fall in love, bike through the streets of Salzburg, wonder if doorbells really are one of your favorite things. If you've never seen Sound of Music before-- this is the perfect way to start. If you've read all Baroness fan-fic, come help us lead the fray! We'll watch this timeless masterpiece and sing along with the hills!

Stichstock (Magical Ultimate Frisbee) with Dani

Stichstock is Germanic wizarding game with the objective of piercing an inflated dragon bladder. We will be playing this ancient game with flying discs! The rules are simple and all that is needed are shoes that you can run in and a positive attitude! The dragon bladder will be simulated using a giant half-hoop staked in the ground, and you can pierce it by passing the flying disc to a teammate through the center of the hoop. Come have fun running around in our beautiful surroundings! This might be for you if...

- You enjoy playing active games
- You like building team comradery
- You want to test your courage and try something now!

Tarot for Sacred Connection with Naomi

Tarot for Sacred Connection will explore how to use tarot as a sacred tool and as a way to connect with yourself. Participants will learn tarot basics, be led through a meditation, and dive into a custom reading for C.A.M.P. Participants will then journal about the cards and what the meaning of the cards is bringing up for them. Because tarot is an intuitive skill, anyone can take this workshop and anyone can read their own tarot, whether they are a novice or an expert. This might be for you if...

- You want to relax and check-in with yourself
- You want to explore tarot as a spiritual practice
- You want to exercise your intuition

Tea Time & Buttonmaking with Ariana & Caitlin

If you're hoping for a chance to connect with other CAMPers that requires next to zero physical exertion, tea time is a perfect drop in for you. Ariana will also be hanging out there with her incredible buttonmaker if you're looking to make some buttons! This might be for...

- Anyone looking for a restful space to connect
- Anyone who wants to learn and/or already loves making buttons

To Quit or Not To Quit? That is the Journaling Prompt with Jolie

In this workshop, we'll be thinking, talking and writing about quitting, moving on and moving forward. Through group discussion and journaling prompts, we'll share stories about quitting, giving up, and starting over. And we'll write through our own feelings, needs and plans to move forward in our own lives. This might be for you if...

- Come if there's something you want to start or stop doing
- Come if you're looking for the motivation to move on/move forward
- Come to learn and talk about where our thoughts and feelings about quitting originate

This workshop is designed to be empowering, but we may have some vulnerable conversations.

Trivia Night hosted by Jackson

Come bond with fellow CAMPers during Friday night trivia, featuring host Jackson Bird and multiple rounds of Not Sorry-inspired trivia rounds. Special prizes for teams with the most & least points!

Witch Please Critical Theory Workshop on Camp with Hannah M. & Marcelle

Let's unpack Camp at C.A.M.P.! Have you ever wondered what it means to call something "Campy"? Or why Camp and queer are so closely aligned? Is Camp only for pop culture? Or does being popular mean it's not Camp? Come have a blast learning about critical theory, queer theory, and popular culture as we talk Camp at C.A.M.P.! This workshop might be for you if...

- You love learning new ways to look at media
- You want to embrace being ungovernable
- You describe things as "Camp" on the reg. and are a little concerned you might be using it wrong...?

This workshop may include references to oppressive ideologies like homophobia and transphobia

Writing, Authoring, & Publishing Panel with Vanessa, Julia, Lauren, Jolie, and Hannah M.

Many of the faculty at this CAMP are writers, as are many of you. So we wanted to take the opportunity to have a frank conversation about writing and publishing. Where is the line between these two things? What role do we want writing to play in their lives? We'll have a facilitated conversation and have a panel available to answer any questions you might have. This workshop might be for you if...

- You love to write but you aren't sure if you want to publish
- You're interested in publishing but don't know where to start

Writing Opinion Pieces with Lauren

What makes social commentary connect with readers? What is a publishable opinion piece, and how can you craft one? In this double session, Lauren will help you connect outrage to argument, argument to evidence, and evidence to storytelling. You'll come in with something you care deeply about and leave with a full outline for how to make other people care about it, too. Sign up to join a revolution in words that can lead to action! This might be for you if...

- You are not entirely satisfied with at least one element of current society
- You read commentary about State of Things and think WTF PEOPLE
- You are someone who wants to make change in the world by sharing ideas or stories

Yes, And It's Really That Simple: An Improv Workshop with Hannah Rehak

Want to learn a thing or two about thinking on your feet? Join Hannah for a low-stakes, high-fun workshop that will teach you the basic tools of improv comedy. Spoiler alert: They're mainly a) active listening b) adding information — things you probably already know how to do pretty well! In this hour-long workshop, we'll play some group games, put the basics to the test, talk through what makes a scene "work" and laugh along the way. This workshop might be for you if...

- You are a theater kid at heart (even if you never did theater, don't like the spotlight, get nervous on stage, etc)
- You want to work on your active listening skills, social awkwardness, being a good conversationalist, etc.
- You like to laugh!

This is interactive so be ready to participate!

Optional Individual Activities

Do you have some time in between events? Are you looking for something you can do on your own or with a few other people to orient yourself to CAMP? Do you want to take a break from a session? Here are some suggested activities!

- Find your own spot - There are beautiful spaces all across Camp! Take time to wander around the campgrounds and find a place that resonates with you. Take time to really notice the space with your senses, and maybe bring a journal with you!
- Explore the Sacred Practices Pop Up - There are lots of fun sacred practices and activities you can engage with either on your own or with others at the Sacred Practices Pop Up, located on the grassy area near the Lodge. This will be open all weekend!
- Visit the CAMP Apothecary - The CAMP Apothecary features a collection of poems & quotes submitted by staff & CAMPers. There will be two locations: one in the Quiet Room and one in the Sacred Practices Pop up.
- Take a swim - (when a lifeguard is around)! Lifeguards will be around 11am-5pm on Saturday and 7-9am Saturday and Sunday. You must wear a life jacket on the lake, but you can use the boats on the lake, even if there's no lifeguard around!
- Make a button - Available in the Dining Hall
- Check out some of the books & games that we brought to CAMP! We brought some games & books! Swing by the Dining Hall side room to play & read, whether on your own or in community. (If you take one out of the Dining Hall, please make sure to check it out in the check out sheet on the table!)
- Go for an Awe Walk, an intentional walk around CAMP where you simply take time to notice where you might be able to access awe on the walk.
- Find a place you love and journal on any of these prompts - or others!
 - What did you love to do as a kid?
 - What activities create a "flow state" for you, where you lose track of time and feel positively absorbed by the activity?
 - What's one character that makes you come alive or feel inspired? What about their character resonates with you? Is there a quote or situation from that character that helps point to what you find enlivening or inspiring about them?
 - What are you practicing right now? (Whether intentionally or not, we're always practicing something!) What is life-giving about your current practices? What feels limiting? What would you like to be practicing? How might these practices relate to our collective work of courage, liberation, and/or revolution?
 - Reflect on your autobiography through a particular lens. For example, what's your spiritual, political, and/or literary autobiography? How has your involvement in and/or relationship to this thread changed over your life? What were you taught about it as a young person? What important points in your life have marked changes in this relationship?

CAMP Bingo Challenge!

You are invited to participate in our fun - but optional! - CAMP Bingo Challenge (located on the back of this booklet). If you fill in 4 squares in a row by our Closing Ceremony, you'll be entered into a raffle to win a small prize. To fill out a bingo square, have the relevant workshop facilitator and/or CAMPer sign the square!

 Please note – even if one workshop could meet the requirements for multiple squares, you can only fill out one square per activity! Here are the categories:

- Visual Arts & Music - filled with any art (for example, Painting by the Lake; Embroidery) or music/sound (campfire singing, Songwriting & Recording, morning song circle) offerings.
- Writing - filled with any writing-intensive worship (for example, Romance Writing Workshop, Finding the Right Words, Writing Opinion, or To Quit or Not to Quit?)
- Sacred Practice - filled with our morning sacred practice sessions, spending some time at the Sacred Practice Pop Up Booth, or at related workshops (for example, the Hike, Tarot as a Sacred Practice, Finding the Right Words)
- Critical Engagement & Possibility Building - filled with workshops that deal with critical social engagement (for example, Critical Theory of Camp; Fred, George and the Possibilities and Pitfalls of Humor and Disruption; Chronicling the End of Azkaban; Gender-Affirming Care for Kids)
- Fun & Games - filled with any of our game-related activities (for example, Improv; Charades; Stichstock (Magical Ultimate Frisbee); or Swimming)
- Harry Potter & the Sacred Text - filled with any workshop rooted in HPST (for example, Blessings Workshop; recording a message at our CAMP Confessional; Fred & George and the Possibilities and Pitfalls of Humor and Disruption; Chronicling the End of Azkaban)
- Hot & Bothered - filled with any workshop rooted in H&B (for example, Romance Writing Workshop or Discussion of Pride & Prejudice)
- Witch Please - filled with any workshop rooted in Witch Please (or put on by its creators!) (for example, Critical Theory of Camp, Improv, Embroidery, or Gender-Affirming Care for Kids)
- The Real Question/Should I Quit? - filled with any workshop rooted in TRQ/SIQ (for example, To Quit or Not To Quit? That is the Journaling Prompt)
- Self Care - filled by any workshop that you self-identify as being part of how you hope to explore and practice caring for yourself
- Community Care - filled by any workshop that you self-identify as being part of how you hope to explore and practice caring for your community
- Brave & Bold - filled by any workshop that you want to do but that stretches your comfort zone!
- Purposeful Practice - filled by any workshop you self-identify as being something that you are trying to purposefully practice in your life (or, at least, this weekend!)
- Chat & Chew - fill this out with a fellow CAMPer if you discuss one of the Conversational Prompts together at a meal (either at the Sacred Dinner or otherwise)!
- Podcast Creator-Led Sessions - these can be met through any workshop facilitated by Vanessa, Ariana, Casper, Lauren, Hannah M., or Marcelle.
- Staff-Led Sessions - these can be met through any workshop facilitated by Naomi, Jolie, Jackson, Hannah R., Dani, Margaret, Lara, Dani, AJ, Julia, Nathalie, Courtney, Gaby, or Caitlin
